

> TECHNICAL NEWS

All the latest terminal technical news from around the globe

MannTek releases new feature to simplify re-orders

> Elaflex has launched a new feature to its MannTek product range of dry disconnect and safety breakaway couplings.

Since July 2016, the MannTek product range can be configured online and in response to the increasing popularity, Elaflex continuously improves its digital service.

New about the configurator is the option to search by part number ('reverse search'). This feature simplifies re-orders and saves time. The MannTek part number is always laser marked on the 'ID Plate' of each product. Users can directly type-in the number into the search field to find the identical product.